

Do not disturb the current "no call list" as it now stands. It is unfair to be burdened by unwanted calls and most of those calls are from companies just trying to scam money from individuals. If banks want to get their name out there, they can advertise in the paper or TV.